

PUBLIC LEADER

FIFTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1896.

ONE CENT.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop a note to that effect.

Mr. S. A. Shanklin has returned from Buffalo, N. Y.

Major John Walsh returned yesterday from the G. A. R. Encampment at Somerset.

Mrs. A. S. Bliss and children of Cincinnati are here on a visit to her father, Mr. L. Hill.

Mrs. Judge Garrett S. Wall went to Cincinnati this morning for a visit of several days.

Miss Phoebe Marshall of the county is attending Conference at Millersburg, and is the guest of Mrs. F. A. Hays.

Colonel A. S. Cole of Farris was in the city yesterday, en route home from the G. A. R. Encampment at Somerset.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner from the "State of Fleming" are being pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Alexander of Limestone street.

Superintendent John M. Scott of the Cotton Mill leaves today on a business trip to St. Louis. He will return by the way of Memphis, where he will visit the meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

Very Personal.—Postage on drop letters, whether sealed or not, is 2 cents. Many persons send their notices through the Postoffice with only 1 cent stamp. These are "held for postage." Hereafter they must contain a 2 cent stamp.

We were very sorry to see Uncle Clem on the rock pile.

Tobacco men say this is one of the finest "seasons" they ever saw.

Mr. J. H. Wright continues critically ill at his home on Fifth street.

Mr. Isaac Watkins, who has been ill for some time, does not appear any better.

Corn—oh, my! If nothing happens to prevent between now and harvest, Mason county will have the banner corn crop.

Colonel Ben T. Cox yesterday received a letter from Jimmie Curle, one of last year's favorites, who is anxious to sign with the Maysville Club for this season.

One of Mason's best farmers said yesterday: "I wouldn't give $10 for all the wheat between Maysville and Orangeburg." It is this and dark, and the farmer referred to thinks the rust will attack it and complete its destruction.

REORGANIZATION EFFECTED.

The new officers and managers of Maysville Water Company.

The LEADER stated yesterday that the Maysville Water Company would be reorganized.

That has now been done, and these officers:

President—Charles D. Pearce.

Secretary—J. D. Cooper.

Treasurer—J. D. Dye.

Executive Committee—Charles D. Pearce, H. Duke Watson, Charles B. Pearce, Jr.

Mr. Dye will be, practically, the active agent of the new organization, collecting all accounts and having an office where requests and complaints can be filed.

This latter has been a great need, and the new management is determined to afford every facility for the public and its patrons.

WILL BE MISSED.

The sudden death of Carrollton of Major Frank Harrison.

A special from Carrollton says that Major R. F. Harrison dropped dead Tuesday evening while serving as a Grand Jurymen.

He was Major of the Fourth Kentucky Cavalry, C. S. A., was a Delegate to the Democratic Convention that met at Chicago in 1888 that nominated Grover Cleveland, was a candidate before the last Democratic State Convention of Kentucky for Registrar of the Land Office.

He filled the office of County Clerk in his county for twenty-eight consecutive years.

He was Past Grand Patriarch of Kentucky Oddfellows, a K. P. and a Mason.

"Frank Harrison," as he was familiarly called, had many friends in Maysville who will be pained to hear of his death.

During the last session of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows in this city he was a guest of the writer, and an intimate acquaintance covering nearly twenty years warrants the statement that there was no truer man than Frank Harrison.

Before my sweetheart fair one night I stood in tenuous bliss

And as her lips grew in my sight I saw they were like this:

But when, impelled by fervent love, I kissed her for a kiss, I saw them change from that above To something quite like this:

It may be that you wonder why I sat up late; but when I looked once more the fact is—I could not see them then.

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.

What We May Expect For the Next Twenty-four Hours.

THE LEADER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White streamer—Fair.

Blue—Rain or snow.

Will break above—Twill warmer grow.

If black's beneath—Colder'll be.

Unless black's shown—no change we'll see.

The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 6 o'clock P. M. to-morrow evening.

J. W. Williams, aged 65, a prominent farmer of near Elizaville, died Sunday night.

Mr. Theo. C. Power, late in business in this city, has engaged in business at Shelbyville.

The physicians of Nicholas county are respectfully requested to meet in Carlisle on Wednesday, May 27th, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of organizing a County Medical Society.

The remains of Nelson Howell—an account of whose tragic death was published exclusively in yesterday's LEADER—were interred at Carlisle at 10 o'clock this morning.

Mr. W. J. Rankins died at Augusta at 7 o'clock Wednesday night. He leaves two sons and one daughter, the latter the wife of Mr. Charles A. Wood of Washington, this county.

A stock barn belonging to Mr. Basil Berry near Maysville was struck by lightning during the storm Monday afternoon, and burned to the ground. The loss amounts to $200 or $400.

Marie Deems will appear at her old home, Germantown, this county, on May 30th. The friends of her childhood, who knew her as plain Mollie Johnson, will give her a true Kentucky welcome.

The July meeting of the Northeastern Kentucky Medical Association to be held at Glenn Springs promises to be the largest and most important yet held. Distinguished physicians of New York, Louisville and Cincinnati have already signified their intention of attending.

The entertainment at the Opera-house last night, given by local talent for the benefit of the Baseball Fund, was attended by a highly appreciative audience.

The program comprised the one-act farces, "The Bicycles" and "A Proposal Under Difficulties," with the following cast:

THE BICYCLES.

Mr. Robert L. Hodfish

Mr. George T. Hunter

Mr. Ed. Bradley

Mr. Leander Cox

Mr. Thaddeus Perkins

Mr. Harry Holmes

Mr. Thaddeus Perkins

Mr. Jesse Ford

Mr. Edward Bradley

Miss Martha Stevenson

A special, under the management of

Harry C. Curran

Miss Thaddeus Perkins

Miss George T. Hunter

Dorothy Andrews, "a much-loved young woman"

Miss Martha Stevenson

Jennie, a housemaid

Miss Thaddeus Perkins

Henry Irving

Bliss Terry

Those who favored the performers with their presence were delightfully entertained, and each participant has cause for congratulation.

The gross receipts were about $100.

William B. Jackson, the promising colored student whose critical illness was noticed in THE LEADER a few days ago, died Thursday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of his mother on the Fleming pike. He was about 38 years of age, and gave promise of a bright and useful future. The time has not been set for the funeral.

Try the Globe Laundry. Goods called for and delivered.

Don't buy a Bicycle until you see the "Bluegrass" at McCarthy's Jewelry Store.

The Gazette says Flemingsburg now has over a half dozen lady bicyclists, and any number of male riders.

Come to the entertainment at the Presbyterian Church, Washington, May 28d.

Given by the Misses Milam and Hunter, assisted by Miss Martin. Admission 25 cents.

Mr. Stanley Watson of this city is in Owingville this week, summoned as a witness in the Young-Fassett murder trial. Mr. Watson was an eye-witness to the killing.

Captain B. J. Treacy, the well known horseman of Lexington, was arrested charged with contempt of Court. He recently made an assignment and has failed to file with the County Clerk a schedule of his assets and liabilities, as required by law.

Adjutant General Collier, in closing out an old unused desk in the military building at Frankfort, came across a razor, a powder horn, a letter and other articles which were plainly the property of Colonel Thomas L. Tate, who was Adjutant General just seventy years ago.

The letter was a private but interesting communication from Colonel Joseph J. Bete at Lexington, and told what must have been some interesting gossip at that time. The razor was the most modern and best preserved of all the articles found. The powder horn had been made into filigree horn by mice and the ravages of time.

A partial schedule of the liabilities of B. J. Treacy, the Lexington horseman, shows that he has horses valued at $41,850 and that he owes $75,044.

Current Happenings in and Around the Pleasant Capital of Robertson.

Revel Downing of Bardonia was in town Sunday.

Miss Young of Brookville was in town Monday.

Dr. State Wells of Sydnell was here Court Day.

There was a large crowd here County Court Day.

Colonel Robert Marshall of Bardonia was here Monday.

The Jessie James show was in town County Court Day.

Miss Nettie Hill visited at Mayville a few days last week.

Hon. J. B. Hiles of Broken, candidate for Congress, was here Monday.

Rev. Allen of Fleming filed the pulpits at the M. E. Church Sunday morning.

Children's Day will be observed at the Christian Church the second Sunday in June.

Miss Victoria Hill was the pleasant guest of Mrs. Hill and daughter Friday and Saturday.

Different candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney were in town Court Day.

W. M. Throckmorton of Kenton town will very likely be a candidate for Assessor on the Democratic ticket.

Miss Salie Hiltz has returned to her home at Piqua from Bardonia, where she has been visiting for some time.

The soldiers will hold their annual memorial service at the Walnut Street Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. Rev. R. H. Chaplin, will preach the memorial sermon.

Decca, the famous singer, will be at Germantown the night of the 30th of May. Decca is doubtless the leading soprano voice for the public now. She was born in the neighborhood of Germantown.

Prof. Will Chandler and Clay Wilson commenced a normal class at Bardonia Sunday evening. Prof. Chandler, as well as one of the best teachers the state affords. He is honored and respected by all who know him. He leaves in a few days for his home in Somerset, but it is quite likely he will be in town again next winter.

The Male and Female Academy, under the management of Prof. C. E. Kiser, closed last Friday. The exercises of the afternoon were interesting and well gotten up, thus showing that the good seeds sown by the academy do not fall on barren ground. The Academy was crowded to overflowing with visitors. Prof. Kiser is a true gentleman, as well as one of the best teachers the state affords. He is honored and respected by all who know him. He leaves in a few days for his home in Somerset, but it is quite likely he will be in town again next winter.

Last Saturday morning as King Sol first stepped over the Eastern mountains, the highest and loftiest corner that ever left Mt. Olive, composed of about forty feet of his young relatives and young men, gathered for Bardonia for a day's fishing or rather outing. It seemed that Nature had determined that these young people should have a pleasant time, as there might not be anything to mar their pleasure the combined all her arts to make it the most pleasant and enjoyable day they have seen. The summer air was fragrant with the breath of flowers, the birds were singing their sweetest songs, the sun was shining just warm enough to make it pleasant driving. Nothing more could have been desired, so they went on their way rejoicing, their destination—one of the most delightful spots eye could wish to behold or foot to tread upon.

The boys fixed up the hammocks, swings and croquet sets. Every one had their dinner and stiffness and entered into the amusements of the day with enthusiasm and vim. Even Prof. Colyer and Dr. Chandler cast away their musies of dignity and for the time became boys again. About 10 o'clock the girls spread the dinner that consisted of everything that was good to eat. About the girls spread the table or labor in preparing. Mother earth, with her soft, green carpet, all beds, tables and chairs, while the branches of a sturdy oak shielded the table from the noisome sun. Although the dinner consisted of more than the loaves and two fishes, yet the twelve baskets full of fragments were left, even if Rev. W. A. Penn and several hungry Editors were present. After the girls "cleaned up the dinner," every one enjoyed himself in the way he most desired; some went "basting and basting," others could be seen playing croquet or swinging; some spent the time pleasantly rambling over the historic battlefield, while others who were inclined to be lazy rested under the shade of the trees. Several of the young people over the Lake next afternoon, there participating in the same pleasures. The sun sinking in the West gave the signal for departure; all bade farewell to the place, saying that the day had been one of the happiest they ever spent.

The spring trade is getting ripe. Now's the time to plant advertisements in THE LEADER.

Leave orders with James N. Lynch for The Cincinnati Post, the best afternoon daily in the Ohio Valley.

The weather conditions of the past week were upon the whole more favorable to crops generally than those of the preceding month. While the rain was mainly in the form of local showers, yet so heavy and frequent were they in the Western sections of the state, that the drought may be said to be broken in that division. In other parts of the state the rainfall was much less, and while in some localities there was a sufficient amount to ally in a measure the effects of the drought, more is badly needed, especially in the Bluegrass counties and Eastward to the West Virginia line. There are strong indications at the date of this report that good rains will fall in these sections before Wednesday night. The temperature, while ranging from five to seven degrees above the average daily during the week, did not attain the marked extremes which characterized several preceding weeks. The amount of sunshine received varied considerably in different parts of the state, the Western section receiving slightly less than the normal amount, and in the Central and Eastern portions a considerable excess prevailed. Generally speaking there is less complaint of destructive worms and insects than for several weeks past.

WESTERN KENTUCKY.

Like those of several preceding weeks, reports from this section indicate a better state of crop conditions than that which obtains in other parts of Kentucky. Nearly all counties report sufficient rain, and in the extreme Western ones heavy drenching showers occurred, several correspondents reporting amounts of precipitation in excess of two inches. In several of the more Easterly counties complaints of lack of rain are still being made. A severe local storm in Marshall county Sunday damaged crops to some extent. The reports concerning wheat are somewhat conflicting, but as a rule they do not appear to be quite so favorable as those of last week, much complaint being made that it is heading low. The corresponding in Union county states that it is holding its own in that section, and that the prospect for a crop is good. It has suffered some damage from high winds and from the ravages of the cinch bug. Corn is almost unanimously reported to be in fine condition. The greater portion is above ground and much of it has been worked. Some few fields in the lowlands yet remain unplanted. Clover and timothy have suffered from the ravages of the army worms, and the former does not look well as a rule. Tobacco setting has made very rapid progress during the week, and in many counties fully one half of the crop was transplanted during the week. Indications point to a shortage of apples, but peaches and the smaller fruits are abundant.

CENTRAL KENTUCKY.

The drought, which has prevailed in this section of the state for some weeks past was relieved in a measure by the light local showers which fell during the week. The rain was insufficient in amount, however, to do more than partially relieve crops, and in many cases came too late to be beneficial. Wheat is heading very low, and farmers are much discouraged at the prospect for a crop. Good rain would improve it, but in many localities it has suffered permanent injury from the protracted drought. Some tobacco has been set, but the season has not been favorable for any great progress with the work. There are complaints of scarcity of plants from Keaton, Owen, Scott and adjoining counties. Corn has come up well, and the stand is generally reported to be good. This crop has suffered less from the drought than have any of the others. The rains improve clover and timothy somewhat, but both are still short and need more moisture badly. Oats have been seriously injured in most localities, but not so much that good rains will not serve to revive them. Pastures have improved, and bluegrass is reported to be growing nicely again. Hemp looks badly, some of the seed failing to germinate, giving the fields an irregular appearance. Apples are reported to be scarce, but the prospect for other fruit is good. Gardens are doing moderately well. But few complaints are made of the presence of cutworms.

EASTERN KENTUCKY.

The light showers of the week have revived vegetation to some extent but more rain is badly needed. In many places the soil is so dry and hard that it cannot be worked. Corn, as a rule, looks well, but in a number of counties is commencing to yellow from lack of rain. But little tobacco has been set and there are complaints of scarcity of plants from Lewis and several adjoining counties. Wheat is in a generally poor condition and some correspondents state that it will be too low to cut. Rye and oats are short and need rain very badly. Pastures and meadows are poor and there is a scarcity of grass for stock reported from many counties. The present outlook for the hay crop is very discouraging. Early garden vegetables are not in good condition, but rain would bring them forward rapidly. Fruits are reported to be promising, though apples are dropping from the trees in great numbers. As in other sections of the state, there are few complaints of cutworms this week.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses, and to use each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a question every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. NEWS NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The Henry M. Stanley goes to the Kanawha river tonight.

The river continues to fall at this point, there being but 6.4 on the marks. The Sherley has had her wheel repaired, and passed to Cincinnati last night. She will return to Pomeroy tonight.

The Keystone State, with a large trip of passengers for the May Musical Festival at Cincinnati, passed down last night. She returns to Pittsburgh tonight.

There have been good rains up the Allegheny and Monongahela, but to what extent is not known. At Wheeling the Ohio is stationary at 3.9. With 5.3 at Parkersburg the Ohio is falling to Cincinnati, where there is 8.5 and stationary.

Ottawa river points where it raised are Hinton and Charleston, Parkersburg, Point Pleasant and Portsmouth.

Boatmen are rejicing over the good prospects for big water. At Pittsburgh there promises to be six feet. The weather is threatening throughout the Ohio valley, while along the Missouri and Upper Mississippi valleys the rains are unprecedented for this season of the year. Everywhere it is shaping itself for an old-fashioned "June rise."

At St. Louis there is an 18-foot stage and it promises to go to 35 feet. The Mississippi is on the rampage and Southern tributaries are beginning to contribute their mite to keep up the swell.

How to Treat a Wife.

From Pacific Health Journal.

First, get a wife, second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business but do not, therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom. To this we would add always Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health.
